Foreword

Eleven years have now passed into the history of North Central School. This year has been a big step in developing the school to meet the needs of the future. The 1967-68 school year has been filled with many firsts: a new Grade School addition, a new cafeteria in both buildings, a better supply of sports equipment, and a new athletic field.

It is the hope of the Annual staff that this book contains a record of all the events, activities, and fellow students, so that the memories of the 1967-68 school year shall remain at your finger tips for future reference and enjoyment.

Dedication

MR. WAYNE WESLOW

This yearbook is dedicated to Mr. Wayne Weslow, who has been our friend and advisor for the past three years. With his help the annual staff has made great accomplishments. Without his guidance our annuals would not be the success that they are.

Mr. Weslow has been employed as Business teacher and advisor for the class of '69.

Because of his helpful advice, and pleasing personality, we feel he should have the honor of having this yearbook dedicated to him.

Mr. Richard K. Harpster has completed his third year at North Central. During these three years many changes have been made in the facilities and curriculum. A new school addition for the elementary and kindergarten was under construction during the summer and put into use at the beginning of the 1968 year. New cafeterias were added to both the Kunkle and Pioneer buildings. A large athletic field is under construction and is expected to be in use next year. These have been the most important accomplishments in the 1967-68 school year, along with new books, desks, clock system, new library with a large variety of books, repairs on the auditorium, new typewriters, and a rearrangement of classrooms.

All of these have brought about a better atmosphere for learning and opportunities. It has made the educational system at North Central a more stable and up-to-date system. And lastly, it has given us a bigger and more secure step into the coming future of North Central.

Paul Ladd received his B. S. from Defiance College and his M. S. from the University of Toledo. Besides being principal, he is also an athletic director and student council advisor.

Russell Oxender has completed his fourth year as Jr. High Principal. He holds a B. S. and an M. A. from Ohio State University. He assisted with the guidance program and makes sure the Students enter High School on the right foot with ambition and determination.

Board of Education

Robert Gamboe; Robert Pitts, Vice President; Doris Dury, President; Richard Kurtz; John Lougheed

The Board of Education is comprised of five interested and dedicated citizens from our school. These members meet once a month with the Executive Head, Mr. Harpster, to formulate school policy and provide educational facilities and staff. They have the big responsibility of representing the community's interest in the vast undertaking of education. Decisions must be made and the board's decisions are always made after careful thought. We had a change in board members this year. Mr. Kenneth Critchfield and Mr. Thorp were replaced by Bob Gamble and John Lougheed. Mr. Richard Oxender is the clerk for the school board this year.

Another important group in the intricate operation of our school is our secretaries. Mrs. Brandon and Mrs. Oyer are the high school secretaries while, Mrs. Bandeen is the secretary at the junior high.

Very Important People

Although the cooks, custodians and most of our bus drivers are not directly connected with the education of the student body, it is impossible for the school to exist without them.

The cooks, custodians, and bus drivers are all up early in the morning no matter how cold or nasty. The bus drivers have to make sure the students arrive at school and home safely and on time. The custodians make sure the school is clean, heated and everything is working before students arrive. The cooks must be early in order to fix enough food for the student body and have it ready when lunch time rolls around.

These people definitely play a very important part in our school. Because of this a very special and well deserved "THANK YOU" should be extended to each and every one of these very important people.

On September 2, 1964, 65 students entered this high school as Freshmen. We were soon to learn that our place was at the bottom. Our first duty as Freshmen was to select class officers. For the position of President we chose Keith Hess. We also chose our class colors - aqua and white. During our first year in high school, we had a closed class party, sponsored a skating party, and had dances after the ballgames. At the end of our Freshman year, we selected our student council members for the following year.

Three months later we returned to school, one step closer to the top. Again our first item of business was to elect class officers. Again Keith Hess was elected President. That fall we sponsored a dance with teachers as disc-jockeys. The following spring we sponsored a James Bond 007 dance featuring our own Band and His Bags". The highlights of our Sophomore year were the elections of attendants to the homecoming and Christmas Dance and the selection of our class rings.

The following September we returned one step closer to the top. Again we elected officers, choosing Douglas Gunn as our President. Our first event that year was receiving our class rings, the first to have our school emblem on them. That fall we sponsored a Halloween Dance, complete with Spook House and a real live witch. The following spring we presented our class play "Pick-a-Dilly." Following our play came the highlights of our Junior year - the Prom. For our theme we chose "The Loveliest Night of the Year". For decorations we had a large house with a large garden. Everyone enjoyed themselves that night. The following Monday morning we returned to school to find that the fountain had drained out onto the floor mixing with the blue crepe paper, giving the floor a blue tint. After sanding it down under watchful eyes, it didn't look too bad. Many thanks goes to Mrs. Yeager and her help for the delicious menu at the Prom and thanks to the parent chaperones. "Life is like a picture so paint it well," was the motto of the class of '68. Under the guidance of Mr. Wright and Mr. Buchanan, this was a momentous year. The graduating class contained forty-eight members.

with mixed emotions. Some are very anxious to "get out," some do not realize the importance of this last year of school, and there are a few that outwardly admit that school has been work but a lot of fun. This was to be our busiest year. Again we chose Doug Gunn to be President. The magazine sales were very successful with the class going over the quota. Kim Clark and Sharon Martin led all salesmen and received fine prizes. The money from the magazines is credited to each Senior to go toward the Senior trip. Several Seniors were busy getting their applications in order for college admittance in the fall of '68. The Preliminary Scholastic Examination, the Ohio State Psychological Examination, the ACT, and the College Boards were taken by several students. Seniors again sponsored the Christmas Dance that has been handed down as a tradition for several years. The Queen was Terri Swaninger and King was Greg Martin. Their court were elected by each class with: Vickie Smart and Dennie Bell, Freshman attendants; Wanda Douglass and Ron Rademaker, Sophomore attendants;

LARRY ELY

NORMAN FISER

DARYL FRANZ

CHRISTY FRISBIE

Julie Fackler and Gary Murry, Junior attendants; Carol Waterston and Kim Clark, Senior attendants; Flower carrier was Jill Hersha; Crown carrier was Todd Martin. The theme of the Christmas Dance was "Christmas in the Park." The Senior play, "Oh Promise Me," was quite an experience for the entire cast as well as their director, Mr. Wilson, showing many new talents. There were not too many practices when everyone was there or enough time to practice in. The cast pulled through very well and the play was a success.

Seniors Find Themselves Very Busy in Spring !!!

Then the big excitement came around Christmas as we received our senior pictures; rushing around signing the backs of pictures and autographing memory booklets and getting yelled at in class for having them out.

As Spring arrived, the Seniors began to feel the pressure of keeping their grades up, planning the Senior trip, picking their invitations and name cards, ordering their caps and gowns, and finally, planning graduation exercises.

ready to leave on our trip to Washington, D.C. and New York. The weather wasn't too promising, it was rainy and cold. We boarded our bus and was on our way at 6:00 p.m. for a long, long journey. We were all excited and having ourselves a blast on the bus. Before we reached Washington we caught very little sleep. After arriving in Washington, D.C., we were greeted by more rain. It rained all the time in Washington and the first day and a half in New York. This was the most rain they had received in several years, just our luck. Our first stop was at Shooles Cafeteria where we could eat all the food we wanted for nothing and boy did we eat. Then we left and checked into our Hotel and made a fast change and boarded the bus again to begin the sight seeing tour. We went all over Washington, D.C., in fact, it seemed like we went through all the buildings there. Then back to the Hotel, all ringing wet, we went. There we stayed for the night. The afternoon of the second day, we left for New York. Because of a bus breakdown we missed the Radio City Music Hall show (we made it up later in our tour). There we spent two wonderful nights in New York and left later then scheduled the third night. Then besides being late at the start, the bus broke down again. The generator had blown and we rode with no lights to Pittsburgh where another bus was waiting for us. We arrived home the 31 at 10:30.

Much thanks, goes to Mr. Wright and Mr. Buchanan for a fine time. They permitted us to do anything that was in reason. They were strict enough but not too strict. At the request of some seniors they put on wigs to look like hippies. They even took us off the regular guide tour to take us where we wanted to go.

Yes, we had a fine time, filled with excitement and fun that we shall remember a long time.

Decoration for Prom.

The Prom was beautifully decorated this year. There was a fountain in the center with a fence around three sides. And on one wall there was a mural. After the dance, we went to Montpelier and saw a movie, from there we went to the bowling alley and stayed until 6:00 that morning. All and All it was a wonderful evening. Well done juniors.

The Christmas Dance this year had a totally different way of being decorated this year. In the center was a tree that had red light bulbs on it and was suspended about ten feet in the air. And while the king and queen were dancing the tree was lowered slow to the center of the dance floor. It was really beautiful.

Band at the Friday the 13th Dance

Now that we are Juniors, we can look back over the last couple of years and see what we've accomplished.

As Frosh we had a car wash and bake sale.

As Sophomores, our big project was a dance and later a skating party which were both quite successful.

This year we're mighty Juniors. Candy sales, a dance, a car wash and of course the Prom kept us quite busy.

Now we're waiting to become Seniors. We have the magazine sales, more projects, a trip and with luck, a grand graduation to look forward to.

The Sophomore Class has worked diligently toward their motto and goal: "Tonight we Launch, Where Shall we Anchor?"

We found as Freshmen, it takes every class member along with patience and hard work, to make a project a success. A doughnut sale turned out to be successful and started us on our way!

This year as Sophomores, we had two money-making projects. Our biggest project was a "white elephant" auction which took a lot of work and planning to make a success.

We are looking forward to a great Junior year!

As Freshmen we are just starting our four years of high school. During these four (seemingly long years which we shall find will end all too soon) we have a lot to learn and much to accomplish. We have set our goals high and we will reach them together.

So far this year we have had a skating party and a dance as our money making activities. Then for our social activity we had a bowling

Next year our biggest event will be our class rings. Then our Junior year will be filled with the Junior play and the Junior-Senior Prom. And then our last year magazine sales, Senior Play, Senior Trip, and Graduation will keep us busy.

But during these four years we will do our best in everything and conquer all obstacles.

Caught in the act?!?

Is the student council an organization of its own? Shouldn't the student body have the right to elect the officers of the Student Council? These and many other questions asked by the student body as the Student Council has become a separate organization of their own. They have rewritten the constitution and sponsored many assemblies and record hops at the end of ball games, and the homecoming. Finally, they set up a schedule for activities for the student body.

Honor Society

A new type of tapping ceremony was used to induct eleven new members into the National Honor Society. It was a court type ceremony, where Dick Jones, president of the Honor Society, acted as the judge, the faculty acted as the jury, and the present honor students acted as the defense for the newly inducted members. In order to be an eligible member in the Honor Society, a person must have a full B average, have character, show leadership, and service.

In an effort to reward scholarship, the scholarship banquet was once more sponsored by the Honor Society to recognize the outstanding students in grades seven through twelve. May these students and many more maintain such high standards.

The Annual Staff Hopes

The Creation of a yearbook begins with imagination, develops further with an industrious staff, a concerned advisor, important financial supporters and a kit filled with mounting boards, rulers, paste, razor blades, scissors, and a stack of pictures.

Due to lack in funds to finance the yearbook in previous years the annual had taken a decline in fulfillment. But due to the increase in boosters this year the annual staff has made a great effort to make this an annual that we many well be proud of for many years to come. Maybe it may not be classified as a good annual by some, but we keep trying to improve it. And it is only possible to improve the yearbook with the help of boosters and new ideas from the community and school.

The annual staff of 1967-1968 hope they have taken the right steps in improving the annual and sending it on the right path in the future.

It is the hope of the annual staff that this annual gives you all the coverage and memories of the great year of 1967-1968. And now as editor of the annual staff it is only fit to recognize and thank the advisor, Mr. Weslow, the annual staff, and boosters for their outstanding dedication and hard work to make a successful yearbook. And if there has been some event or person or recognition not placed where it should have been placed or left out we are truly sorry. We hope this annual will bring nothing but joyous remembrance and happiness.

Newspaper Increases Circulation

Under the advisor, Mr. Buchananan and Editor, Becky Dury, and the paper staff, the newspaper covered many events informing the readers of what has been happening and what was coming up. Many hours were spent outside of school on public opinion polls, finishing gossip and developing new ideas to make it an interesting and magnificent paper. The paper was printed at least once a month, and the staff has increased the sale this year greatly.

Much thanks goes to any person who has directly or indirectly taken part in helping with the newspaper.

Future Teachers of America

Acquainting Members with the purposes and program of the Ohio Education Association was the central idea of this year's chapter of the Future Teachers of America. Members of this chapter have an opportunity to earn points, during their years in the club, towards an award at the end of the year. Some of the activities in which you can earn points are: class and club offices, committee offices, substitute teaching during a time when regular teachers must be out of the room, grading papers, watching study hall, and typing for a teacher.

The Future Teachers of America has always been an active organization with a large group of enthusiastic members ready to learn the latest in teaching methods. Of all the clubs at North Central, this club works the closest with the faculty to learn teaching procedures and ways to improve North Central's School System.

Library Club Encourages Students To Read.

Business meetings, work meetings, and parties compose the library club. The club could be found about every two weeks in the library. The year was spent, cataloging, cleaning, and arranging books or magazines to catch the students interest.

The club's project this year was rearranging the magazine room and moving it to the old teacher's lounge. Now this year, because of the new addition, the library club has an elementary library to keep up. Thanks to this group, our knowledge is wider.
